

UTC North American Fund, Inc. Letter to Shareholders

Dear Shareholders:

Asset Allocation

As outlined in your Prospectus, the UTC North American Fund is committed to investing at least 80% of its total assets in North American debt and equity securities, with the remaining 20% in other markets. Historically, the Fund's North American investments were largely focused on U.S. debt and equity securities. As part of the Fund's overall geographic diversification strategy for 2009, the Fund has increased its focus on Canada and Emerging Markets. This diversification may help mitigate against the country-specific risks of the Fund, and should reward shareholders as the global economy improves.

Economic Overview

The U.S. equity and fixed income markets were extremely volatile in the first half of 2009 as concerns about a 'double-dip' recession, so called 'green shoots in the economy', housing and weak credit conditions created mixed feelings amongst investors and led to both markets posting marginal gains at the end of the period. Despite the high levels of volatility, our strategic decision to maintain the Fund's significant cash holdings (55.70% as of March 1, 2009 and 32.56% as at June 30th 2009) stabilized the Fund's price against erratic market movements. For the six months ended June 30th 2009, the Fund generated returns of 3.40%, outperforming both the U.S. equity and U.S. fixed income markets (for such six-month period, the Fund's benchmarks, the S&P 500 and Barclays Capital Govt. /Credit Bond Index generated returns of 3.16% and 0.55%, respectively).

Although there are signs that the U.S. economy has bottomed, there still exists a certain level of weakness, which may continue to have a depressing effect on company profits going forward. Nevertheless, the aggressive easing of the Federal Reserve is succeeding in reviving financial markets to an extent. Although the expectations are that the economy would remain weak, an increasing number of rising leading indicators may suggest that conditions are in place for growth going forward, albeit at a slow pace.

Market Review First Half of 2009

United States

After a prolonged period of losses in the first quarter, the second quarter provided relief to investors as announcements of 'green shoots' or more appropriately improvements in the index of leading indicators caused an increase in investor confidence, which led to more favorable returns on the S&P 500 Index relative to the first quarter. The S&P 500 Index posted gains of 15.22% in the second quarter compared with losses of 11.67% in the first quarter.

The Conference Board Leading Economic Index, a measure which uses ten variables, such as interest rate spread and real money supply to forecast economic activity, increased 2.30% to 100.2 since the end of March (through May), after falling 1.00% to 97.9 during the first quarter. Nevertheless, the index remains below the 103.1 level it was at just prior to the onset of the recession. On a slightly positive note, there are signals that the housing market has begun to bottom out. Existing-home sales increased through the first two months of the second quarter on a month-over-month basis, and home prices have started to register smaller annual declines. Unfortunately, the level of foreclosures and delinquencies continues to rise. Equity markets outside the U.S. enjoyed a stronger recovery, with the MSCI World Index ex U.S. gaining 7.46% over the six months ended June 30th 2009.

The best performing sectors in the Fund's equity component for the first half of 2009 were Telecommunication Services, Information Technology, Health Care and Consumer Discretionary, which posted returns of 23.37%, 20.02%, 17.79% and 16.42% respectively. Conversely, losses were experienced in Utilities (8.11%), Industrials (7.08%) and Consumer Staples (3.39%).

The Fund's holdings in Financials such as Goldman Sachs and Morgan Stanley posted favorable returns for the first half of 2009 of 74.71% and 77.74% respectively, whilst holdings of Aflac Inc and Citigroup Inc. posted losses for the period under review of 32.18% and 55.74%, respectively. Overall, 'Financials' returned 8.80% for the period under review. The Fund's U.S. equity component posted a gain of 9.20% in the first half of 2009, which was favorable when compared to the return of the S&P 500 Index over the same period of 3.16%. The Fund's overweight position in the information technology and consumer discretionary sectors was the major impetus for the outperformance.

UTC North American Fund, Inc.

As the U.S. economy improves, increased focus would be placed on equity sectors such as 'Industrials', 'Materials' and 'Energy', which are expected to perform favorably in times of economic recovery.

Core fixed income holdings in high quality, U.S. Agency and Asset Backed bonds continued to provide support for the portfolio in times of extreme volatility in the first half of 2009. As at the end of the first half of 2009, 52.36% of Fixed Income Holdings were 'AAA' rated. However, the best performance in the Fund's Bond portfolio came from the Corporate Bond component, which posted gross returns of 13.20% for the first half of 2009. The top performers in this sector were notes acquired in the 'Energy' and 'Materials' sector.

The Fund's holdings of Government and Government related bonds posted gross returns of (7.95)% and 1.26%, respectively as the level of investors' risk aversion decreased based on improving leading indicators. The Barclays Capital/Govt. Credit Bond Index posted gains of 0.55% whilst the U.S. Bond component of the Fund returned 3.22%. This outperformance can be attributed to the Fund's overweight position in the lower end of the investment grade scale relative to the Index. As leading indicators started showing signs of a modest economic recovery, lower investment grade bonds were favored over higher grade bonds.

Canada

There are signs of a recovery in Canada. The Conference Board of Canada's monthly consumer confidence index posted its fourth consecutive rise in June 2009. Housing activity, although never as hard hit as the U.S., has also picked up. The Canadian economy normally lags behind the U.S. economy by about nine months to a year; nevertheless, many analysts predict that a turnaround may come sooner than later.

The Fund's Canadian investments at the end of the first half of 2009 were only 5.62% of the Fund's size due to the recent foray into Canadian securities. Nevertheless, for the period under review, positive returns of 5.51% and 11.00% were experienced in the Canadian equity and bond component respectively. The latter evidences the favorable impact that geographic diversification is having on the Fund. The Fund's underweight position in Canadian securities will be increased going forward to take advantage of future performance from this market.

As the global economy recovers, the Canadian economy should perform favorably, given that it is a commodity based economy. The latter also bodes well for the Canadian dollar.

Emerging Markets

With investors' appetite for risk increasing, and their focus shifting toward the seemingly brighter prospects for economic recovery, emerging markets advanced sharply over the first half of 2009. The S&P BRIC 40 Index posted returns of 40.05%, whilst the Barclays Capital Global Emerging Markets Bond Index returned 18.26%. The combination of improving sentiment regarding the future of financial institutions, rising commodity prices, and strong prospects for growth from China, played a large role in the favorable performance of emerging markets. The sustainability of the rally in emerging market equities is likely to be contingent upon the release of favorable leading indicators, just as in the developed markets.

The Fund's Emerging Market equity component, which represented 3.38% of the Fund's size as at the end of the first half of 2009, returned 25.81% for the period under review, as compared to 40.05% for the S&P BRIC 40 Index. As for the Fixed Income side, which represented 3.70% of the Fund's size, positive returns of 8.83% were experienced as compared to returns of 18.26% by the Barclays Capital Global Emerging Markets Bond Index. The Fund's under-weight position in both asset classes was the main reason for the underperformance. As such, the Fund's position in Emerging Market securities will be increased going forward in order to take advantage of future performance from Emerging Markets.

The developing world, whose problems are cyclical rather than structural, is not suffering under the weight of a severe banking crisis and an overleveraged consumer as in developed markets.

Market Outlook

The public and private sectors are reacting rapidly to address the over-leverage, under-regulation, and opacity that caused the financial crises. The latter, coupled with the massive stimulus programs being implemented, may cause economic recovery to come sooner than later. Credit markets appear to have begun responding to this intervention. Nevertheless, many of the effects of the crisis will take a long time to fade as the crisis moves from the financial system to the real economy.

UTC North American Fund, Inc.
Letter to Shareholders

The challenge for institutional investors will be to balance the desire to rapidly address the issues that have exposed them to unwanted risks with the need to adopt an opportunistic investment posture in today's markets. Our approach would be to capitalize on the market turmoil. The dislocation in the financial markets has left institutional investment managers with a range of attractive investment opportunities across practically every asset class and geography. Given that the Fund held 55.70% in cash as at the beginning of March 2009, the latter provided superb opportunities to acquire securities at prices that may not be seen again in the near future.

The Fund's cash component of 33% of Fund size as of the end of the first half of the year presents us with further opportunities to continue identifying high quality, attractively priced securities, which should continue to benefit UTC North American Fund shareholders.

Additional Information on Fund Expenses
For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2009 (Unaudited)

As a shareholder of the mutual fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including redemption fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees; distribution and/or service (12b-1) fees; and other Fund expenses. This Example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period (01/01/09 – 06/30/09).

Actual Expenses

The first line of the table below provides information about account values based on actual returns and actual expenses. Although the Fund charges no sales load, you will be assessed fees for outgoing wire transfers, returned checks and stop payment orders at prevailing rates charged by U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC, the Fund's transfer agent. If you request that a redemption be made by wire transfer, currently the Fund's transfer agent charges a $15.00 fee. You will be charged a redemption fee equal to 2.00% of the value of shares redeemed if you redeem your shares in the Fund 30 days after the date of purchase. To the extent the Fund invests in shares of other investment companies as a part of its investment strategy, you will indirectly bear your proportionate share of any fees and expenses charged by the underlying fund in addition to the expenses of the Fund. Actual expenses of the underlying funds are expected to vary. These expenses are not included in the example below. The example below includes management fees, registration fees and other expenses. However, the example below does not include portfolio trading commissions and related expenses and other extraordinary expenses as determined under generally accepted accounting principals. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

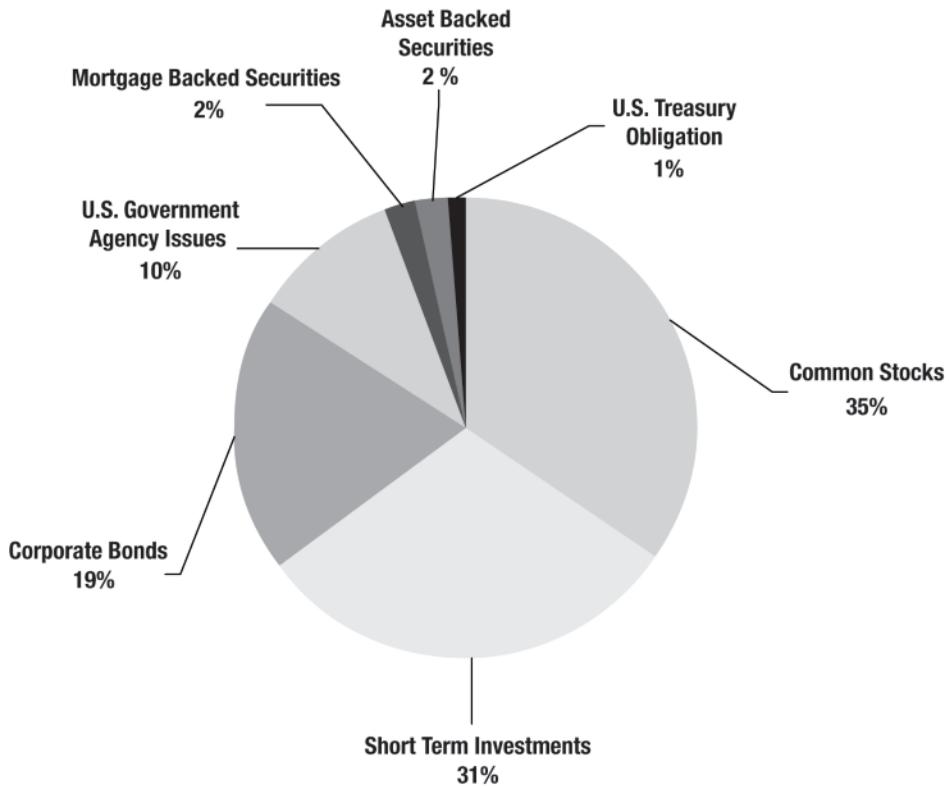

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical return and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds. Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as, redemption fees. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2009

	Beginning Value 01/1/09	Ending Value 06/30/09	Expenses Paid During the Period 01/1/09 - 06/30/09*
Actual	$ 1,000.00	$ 1,034.00	$ 14.68
Hypothetical (5% annual return before expenses)	$ 1,000.00	$ 1,024.79	$ 14.61

* Expenses are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio of 2.91% multiplied by the average account value over the period multiplied by 181/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

UTC North American Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") is organized as a Maryland Corporation, incorporated on October 24, 1990, and registered as an open-end, diversified, management investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. The Fund is subject to expenses pursuant to service and distribution plans described in Note 4. The Fund charges a 2% redemption fee for redemptions of Fund shares held for less than 30 days. The Fund's investment objective is high current income and capital appreciation.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

a) Investment Valuation – Securities listed on the NASDAQ National Market are valued at the NASDAQ Official Closing Price ("NOCP"). Other securities traded on a national securities exchange (including options on indices so traded) are valued at the last sales price on the exchange where primarily traded. Exchange-traded securities for which there is no NOCP are valued at the mean of the bid and ask prices. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at fair market value as determined in good faith under procedures established by the Board of Directors. Debt securities maturing in 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates fair value. Debt securities having maturities over 60 days or for which amortized cost is not deemed to reflect fair value may be priced by independent pricing services that use prices provided by market makers or estimates of market values obtained from yield data relating to instruments or securities with similar characteristics.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Standard No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements" ("FAS 157") effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. FAS 157 clarifies the definition of fair value for financial reporting, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosure about the use of fair value measurements in an effort to make the measurement of fair value more consistent and comparable. The Fund (Portfolio) has adopted FAS 157 effective January 1, 2008. A summary of the fair value hierarchy under FAS 157 is described below:

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

- Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical securities.
- Level 2 Other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)
- Level 3 Significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

The investments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active market, and are therefore classified within level 1, include active listed domestic equities (including rights and warrants) and listed ADRs.

Investments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active, but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within level 2. These include certain money market securities, mutual funds, asset backed securities, investment grade corporate bonds, U.S. government and sovereign obligations, government agency securities, certain mortgage products, and ADRs.

The following is a summary of the inputs used to value the Fund's (Portfolio's) net assets as of June 30, 2009:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Asset Backed Securities	702,790	-	-	702,790
Common Stocks	11,389,990	-	-	11,389,990
Corporate Bonds	6,064,530	-	-	6,064,530
Mortgage Backed Securities	749,110	-	-	749,110
Short-Term Investments	10,108,538	-	-	10,108,538
U.S. Government Agency Ussies	3,417,294	-	-	3,417,294
U.S. Treasury Obligations	412,282	-	-	412,282
Other Financial Instruments*	-	-	-	-
Total	32,844,534	-	-	32,844,534

* Other financial instruments are derivative instruments not reflected in the Portfolio of Investments, such as futures, written options, forwards and swap contracts, which are valued at the unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on the instrument.

UTC North American Fund, Inc.
Notes to the Financial Statements
June 30, 2009 (Unaudited)

- In March 2008, Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 161, "Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS 161") was issued and is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2008. SFAS 161 is intended to improve financial reporting for derivative instruments by requiring enhanced disclosure that enables investors to understand how and why an entity uses derivatives, how derivatives are accounted for, and how derivative instruments affect an entity's results of operations and financial position. Management has determined that SFAS 161 had no impact on the Fund's financial statements.
- b) Federal Income Taxes – Provision for federal income taxes or excise taxes has not been made since the Fund has elected to be taxed as a "regulated investment company" and intends to distribute substantially all taxable income to its shareholders and otherwise comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies.
- c) Distributions to Shareholders – Dividends from net investment income and distributions of net realized gains, if any, will be declared and paid at least annually. Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The character of distributions made during the year from net investment income or net realized gains may differ from the characterization for federal income tax purposes due to differences in the recognition of income, expense and gain items for financial statement purposes. Where appropriate, reclassifications between net asset accounts are made for such differences that are permanent in nature.
- d) Use of Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.
- e) Foreign Securities - Investing in securities of foreign companies and foreign governments involves special risks and considerations not typically associated with investing in U.S. companies and the U.S. government. These risks include revaluation of currencies and future adverse political and economic developments. Moreover, securities of many foreign companies and foreign governments and their markets may be less liquid and their prices more volatile than those of securities of comparable U.S. companies and the U.S. government.
- f) Foreign Currency Translations - The books and records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Foreign currency transactions are translated into U.S. dollars on the following basis: (i) market value of investment securities, assets and liabilities at the daily rates of exchange, and (ii) purchases and sales of investment securities, dividend and interest income and certain expenses at the rates of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. For financial reporting purposes, the Fund does not isolate changes in the exchange rate of investment securities from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities. However, for federal income tax purposes the Fund does isolate and treat as ordinary income the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates on realized gain or loss from the sale of investment securities and payables and receivables arising from trade date and settlement date differences.
- g) Subsequent Events Evaluation - In preparing these financial statements, the Fund has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through August 29, 2009 the date that the financial statements were available to be issued. This evaluation did not result in any subsequent events that necessitated disclosures and/or adjustments.
- h) Other – Investment and shareholder transactions are recorded on the trade date. The Fund determines the gain or loss realized from the sale of investment securities by comparing the original cost of the security lot sold with the net sales proceeds. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date or as soon as information is available to the Fund and interest income is recognized on an accrual basis. Bond premiums and discounts are amortized using the effective interest method.

2. INVESTMENT TRANSACTIONS AND TAX INFORMATION

The aggregate purchases and sales of securities, excluding short-term investments, by the Fund for the six months ended June 30, 2009 were $9,018,705 and $1,252,806 respectively.

As of December 31, 2008, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

Cost of investments	$ 31,600,577
Gross unrealized appreciation	1,471,193
Gross unrealized depreciation	(2,404,165)
Net unrealized appreciation	$ (932,972)
Undistributed ordinary income	-
Undistributed long-term capital gain	-
Total distributable earnings	$ -
Other accumulated losses	(6,562,187)
Total accumulated losses	$ (7,495,159)

At December 31, 2008, the Fund had accumulated capital loss carryforwards of $6,548,433. In prior years, the Fund had accumulated capital loss carryforwards of $4,208,471 expiring in 2009, $413,844 expiring in 2010, $244,113 expiring in 2011, $1,112,247 expiring in 2012 and $569,758 expiring in 2016. To the extent that the Fund realizes future net capital gains, those gains will be offset by any unused capital loss carryforwards.

There were no distributions made by the Fund during the six months ended June 30, 2009 and year ended December 31, 2008.

Effective June 29, 2007, the Fund adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. 48 (FIN 48), "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes". FIN 48 requires the evaluation of tax positions taken on previously filed tax returns or expected to be taken on future returns. These positions must meet a "more likely than not" standard that, based on the technical merits, have a more than fifty percent likelihood of being sustained upon examination. In evaluating whether a tax position has met the recognition threshold, the Fund must presume that the position will be examined by the appropriate taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. Tax positions not deemed to meet the "more-likely-than-not" threshold are recorded as a tax expense in the current year.

FIN 48 requires the Fund to analyze all open tax years, as defined by the Statute of Limitations, for all major jurisdictions. Open tax years are those that are open for exam by taxing authorities. Major jurisdictions for the Fund only relate to Federal tax years. As of June 30, 2009, open Federal tax years include the tax year ended December 31, 2005 through December 31, 2008. The Fund has no examination in progress.

The Fund has reviewed all open tax years and major jurisdictions and concluded that the adoption of FIN 48 resulted in no effect to the Fund's financial position or results of operations. There is no tax liability resulting from unrecognized tax benefits relating to uncertain income tax positions taken or expected to be taken on the tax return for the fiscal year-end December 31, 2008. The Fund is also not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will significantly change in the next twelve months.

3. INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEE AND OTHER AGREEMENTS

On February 18, 2009, the shareholders of the Fund voted to approve a new investment management agreement with UTC Fund Services, Inc. (the "Adviser"), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Trinidad and Tobago Unit Trust Corporation. The Fund executed the investment management agreement with the Adviser on February 26, 2009, and the Adviser began managing the Fund's assets on March 1, 2009. Prior to that time, Earnest Partners, LLC served as the investment adviser to the Fund. Under the Fund's investment management agreement (the "New Agreement"), the Adviser provides the Fund with investment advisory and management services for which the Fund pays a fee at an annual rate of the greater of $50,000 or 0.75% of the portion of the daily net assets not exceeding $10 million; 0.50% of the portion of the daily net assets exceeding $10 million but not exceeding $20 million; and 0.25% of the portion of the daily net assets exceeding $20 million.

The form of the New Agreement was approved by the Board, including a majority of those directors who were not "interested persons" (within the meaning of Section 2(a)(19) of the Investment Company Act of 1940), on December 1, 2008, and on January 6, 2009, the Board approved the change of investment adviser to the Adviser and called a Special Meeting of the shareholders of the Fund to vote on the New Agreement, among other things.

UTC North American Fund, Inc.
Notes to the Financial Statements
June 30, 2009 (Unaudited)

The New Agreement contains terms and conditions that are substantially identical to the prior investment management agreement (the "Old Agreement") in all material respects. In particular, the compensation rate under the New Agreement, the duties of the investment adviser under the New Agreement and the term of the New Agreement are identical to the compensation rate under the Old Agreement, the duties of the investment adviser under the Old Agreement and the term of the Old Agreement, respectively.

In considering the New Agreement and reaching its decision to approve the New Agreement, the Board reviewed and analyzed various factors that it determined were relevant, including the factors below:

• Nature, Extent and Quality of Services Provided by the Adviser.

The Board's analysis of the nature, extent and quality of the Adviser's services to the Fund took into account knowledge gained from the Board's regular quarterly meetings with Unit Trust Corporation throughout the year. In addition, the Board reviewed and considered Unit Trust Corporation's resources and key personnel involved in providing investment management services to the Fund and the Adviser's management history. The Board also considered other administrative services that Unit Trust Corporation provided for the Fund, such as shareholder services and other administrative services for the Board and Fund. The Board concluded that the nature, extent and quality of the services provided by Unit Trust Corporation to the Fund was appropriate and that the Fund was likely to benefit from services to be provided under the New Agreement with the Adviser.

• Investment Performance of the Current Adviser and the Fund.

In considering the investment performance of the Fund, the Board reviewed information regarding the Fund's performance in comparison to various stock market indices and also peer funds. With respect to the Fund's performance relative to stock market indices, the Board noted the Fund's performance relative to its benchmarks for the 12 months ended December 31, 2007. The Board also considered the prior adviser's quarterly portfolio commentary and review of the Fund's performance, including discussions regarding the Fund's performance during those periods. The Board also reviewed and compared the Fund's performance relative to other peer funds. After considering all of the information, the Board concluded that the performance of the prior adviser has been acceptable but that the Adviser has the potential to produce more favorable returns because of the greater resources of Unit Trust Corporation.

• Costs of Services Provided and Profits Realized by the Prior Adviser. The Board examined the fee and expense information for the Fund relative to other funds of comparable size, character and investment objective. The Board noted the Fund's investment management fee and total expense ratio relative to peer funds. The Board also reviewed and considered management fees charged by the prior adviser to other investment advisory clients and generally discussed the cost of obtaining alternative investment advisory services. In light of all of the information that the Board received and considered, including that the Adviser's fees would be identical to the prior adviser's fees, it concluded that the management fees were reasonable with respect to the services to be provided and the performance of the Fund.

• Economies of Scale and Fee Levels Reflecting Those Economies. The Board considered the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the Fund grows, including a consideration of breakpoints in the investment management agreement fee schedule. The Board noted that the investment management fees were adjusted if economies of scale were realized as the Fund grew. The Board noted that it would be more likely for the Fund to grow if the Adviser became the investment adviser because neither the prior adviser nor its affiliates were engaged in selling shares of the Fund, whereas affiliates of Adviser would be actively selling shares of the Fund.

• Benefits Derived from the Relationship with the Fund. The Board noted that the Adviser would receive minimal ancillary benefits from its association with the Fund in the form of soft-dollar research and the development of managed account relationships.

The foregoing factors and conclusions form the basis for the recommendation of the Board that the shareholders approve the New Agreement.

U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC serves as Transfer Agent, Administrator and Accounting Services Agent for the Fund. U.S. Bank, N.A. serves as Custodian for the Fund.

4. SERVICE AND DISTRIBUTION PLANS

The Fund pays service fees to certain entities for personal service and/or maintenance of shareholder accounts. Service fees are calculated up to 0.25% of each shareholder account opened with the Fund as a result of a sale made by the particular entity of the Fund's shares. The Fund incurred service fees of $37,050 under this agreement during the six months ended June 30, 2009.

The Board of Directors has adopted a Distribution Plan (the "Plan") applicable to the Fund under Rule 12b-1 of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. Pursuant to the Plan, registered brokers and dealers and qualified recipients are reimbursed by the Fund for services provided and expenses incurred in connection with the sale of the Fund's shares of up to 0.50% of the average daily net assets of the Fund. In November 2002, the Fund entered into a distribution agreement with UTC Financial Services USA, Inc. ("UTCFS") formally Chaconia Financial Services, Inc. ("CFS"), a registered broker-dealer and subsidiary of the Trinidad & Tobago Unit Trust Corporation ("UTC"), the Fund's sponsor, for distribution of Fund shares in the United States of America. For the six months ended June 30, 2009, UTCFS and UTC earned $74,100.

5. TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

The following company is affiliated, as defined in Section (2)(a)(3) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, with the UTC North American Fund.

Name of Issuer	Share Balance at January 1, 2009	Purchases	Sales	Share Balance at June 30, 2009
Trinidad & Tobago Unit Trust Corporation-First Unit Scheme*	87,123	1,349	88,472	-
Cost	$157,817	-	$157,817	-

* Dividends paid to the Fund during the period were $11,354. The fund realized a gain of $30,424 as a result of the sale of 88,472 shares of the Trinidad and Tobago Unit Trust Corporation – First Unit Scheme.

 Dividend reinvested.

As of June 30, 2009, the Trinidad & Tobago Unit Trust Company ("TTUTC") owned 71.56 percent of the outstanding shares of the Fund. The investment activities of TTUTC could have a material effect on the Fund.

6. GUARANTEES AND INDEMNIFICATIONS

In the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims against the Fund that have not yet occurred. Based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.
